All-America Honors Looming Already for a Number of Football Stars Performing Brilliantly on American Gridirons

BY PHILIP MARTIN

Before any grid season begins very old, a handful of footballers throughout the country usually measure by dint of color and sparkling play, to say the least, the line. This is particularly true in the South, where the players are playing successfully toward All-America posts.

Bobby Grayson, Stanford full back, has proven the nucleus of the attack. The Trenchard has built at Stanford. His pile-driving line-backing has made Stanford the favorite to cap the Pacific Coast Conference crown.

Dark horses in Iowa's promising grid unit, Ole Simment, dusky Port Worth punter, has been dubbed by Dick Hanley the greatest player he ever has seen. The coach at Northwestern, against which Ole averaged six yards a track, predicted the colored lad would probably outlast Red Grange.

With outstanding offensive tackle, Stanley Kotka, Minnesota full back, has eclipsed even Pat Lane, Nebraska's captain and star halfback. Kotka seems a fit successor to the glory in which his famed line-backing predecessors, Herb Jeasing, Bruce Nagel, and others, have shined. Fame beckons Jay Berwanger, Chicago quarterback, who has been named the Maroon footballer this year. It was Jay who was personally responsible for the upset scored over Michigan.

Then there's Corby Cornelius, Duke halfback, who is the best performer in the South. A top-notch open field runner and point-after-touchdown specialist.

Also George Melnikoff and Fred Cardeon of Notre Dame. After an inactive season, Melnikoff is back in a way that must once have amazed the fans of the Knute Rockne. Cardeon, cousin of the famed Frank, former Irish quarter and now new star at Notre Dame, has been beating Big Dan Elser out of the regular full back job.

Leslie Westcott, Pitt full back, is recognized as the best line plunger in the South. On his sides, he's a place kicker of no mean ability. The big noise in Pitt's win from Southern California, last year's grid champion, is going places this year. Here his destination seems to be the turf. Below, left to right, are other stars who have made flying starts during the season: Bob Grayson of Stanford, Fred Cardeon of Notre Dame, George Harley of U. of North Carolina and Les Westcott of Pitt.

Ted Christensen, above, Washington State star halfback, is going places this year. Here his destination seems to be the turf. Below, left to right, are other stars who have made flying starts during the season: Bob Grayson of Stanford, Fred Cardeon of Notre Dame, George Harley of U. of North Carolina and Les Westcott of Pitt.

SPORT Jottings: Jimmy Fox's head injury, caused by a pitched ball in a Winnipeg exhibition game, continues to worry fans. . . . Max Beer's brother, Buddy, is on his way. . . . In 1904, while with the Red Sox, Cy Young pitched 23 consecutive hitless innings. . . . The Giants may release Lefty O'Doul so he can continue as manager of the San Francisco Giants. . . . A New Britain, Conn., youth has a golf ball 103 years old. . . . made of feathers is used in a famous building.

The southwest places great hopes on Bob Hilliard, Texas passer de luxe and a maroon open-field runner. A big boon to Jack Cheever in the letter's first year as coach at Texas U.

Corporation at Lake Harbor, and making his headquarters at the hotel in South Bay.

T. W. Jones recently made a business trip to West Palm Beach. S. E. Campbell and G. P. Allison made a trip to the lower east coast the last of the week in order to transact business at Miami and Fort Lauderdale.

Mrs. Marjorie Clemons and son Marion Jr., spent the week end at West Palm Beach with Mr. Clemons.

Frank Masters has resumed, for the fourth year, his regular season of leading cars at South Bay for Thompson-Keece.

Mrs. G. B. Bishop who has been visiting Mr. Bishop here for several days enroute from Charlotte, South Carolina, where she spent the summer to their home in Miami.

W. W. McCurdy has been appointed chairman of the Red Cross Roll Call for South Bay and will start his annual drive for members next week.

M. H. Gray, who has been in Cocoa with his family for some weeks, has returned and is putting in a winter.

Neel McAllister left the last of the week for Fort Lauderdale where he will visit his mother, who recently returned from an extended visit in the north.

R. Y. Patterson and J. J. Harrington of Cleveland were in South Bay the last of the week enroute to make a survey of drainage conditions around the lake.

G. A. Van, Sugar Superintendent of the U. S. Sugar Corporation, reports that they expect to start cutting cane in the South Bay zone on November 29 and will continue for five or six months. All cane will be cut on contract, using a crew of 150 in this sector, many of whom will be quartered in the can quarters east of town.

Engineer D. L. Byrd reports a recent trip to Fort Lauderdale and thence up the North New River Canal to the dam in order to inspect the present conditions. He found a dragline at work and some three-fourths of the dam already removed. He left again on Saturday with a second trip to the dam site planned, expecting that the dam would be entirely removed by the first of the week. Mr. Byrd is in charge of the crew of surveyors now making a survey of Road No. 20. He has now progressed some twenty miles along the canal south of South Bay and has approximately twelve miles to go to reach the site of the dam above mentioned.

S. J. Fisher and G. J. Barstow made a hurried trip to Bare Beach and Clewiston the last of the week. R. E. Thomas of Ritta Island was here recently and reports the Assembly Singing: America, The Beautiful, Prayer Paper, How Our Schools Are Meeting Changed Conditions, E. K. Sheldon, Song Mackerel, Margarette Brown, Carolyn Muttcher, Reading: The Home and the School, Miss Genevieve Brown.

The business session followed. The treasurer's report was read by the secretary, Mrs. W. W. McCurdy sending in her resignation. Miss Sue Maxwell was elected treasurer to fill out the unexpired term. Mrs. J. W. Ransley reported 23 paid up members to date, the third grade taught by Mrs. W. H. Willis leading in the contest with ten members. It was suggested that the stringed instrument music class to use the Health Center on Wednesdays from 4 until 9 p. m. It was also decided to hold the regular meetings, as heretofore, on the afternoon of the second Monday of each month at 3:30 for one hour. A suggestion was made to hold a Father's Night in place of some regular meeting, this meeting to be held at night and the number of fathers present counted for the room prizes at that meeting instead of the mothers. This suggestion will probably be carried out during the year.

The matter of the free will offering to the National Convention to be held in Miami in the spring was taken up and $25.00 voted to this cause.

The second grade taught by Miss Annie Kerfoot won the attendance prize. Mrs. J. W. Ransley reported on the meeting of the County points of interest brought out at this meeting and Mrs. H. C.
